HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.

He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent heretofore considered the best in use.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

EASTERN DATES TO DECEMBER 18

Congressional

WASHINGTON Dec 1[illegible] Brooks of New York should have been thus reported on Thursday: We (meaning the Democracy of New York) never have been, ever can be, never will be repudiators.

The debate and the action of the House on this subject are much talked about in the departments and among financial men. They regard the question as entirely removed from the politics [illegible] and the regret is that the vote though unanimous with one exception was so small. But this was owing to the fact that many members had gone home to spend the holidays, not anticipating the agitation of the question.

The Committee on Ways and Means held a meeting to-day on the tariff. Efforts are making to increase the duty on steel.

COLUMBUS, D[illegible] 1[illegible] A bill to pay in coin the interest on the State debt passed the Legislature to-day.

Progress of the Cuban Revolution

SANTIAGO VIA HAVANA, Dec 15 —The Spanish troops have finally retired from Mogalet in two detachments one going to Nictori and the other to Serrano. Subsequently 2 000 reinforcements arrived for the insurgents with fresh supplies and recruited their old positions. Insurgents are in great force in the neighboring mountains. The landing of fillibusters at the mouth of Rio Cabana is confirmed. It is reported that Valmaseda has written to Havana that he must have reinforcements or resign, that it is impossible to carry on the campaign with 30 000 troops, a third of whom are sick. Sickness among the troops is increasing.

A Row with the Railroads.

RALEIGH Dec 16 —Great indignation prevails throughout this State in regard to the depression and misappropriation of railroad and other bonds issued during the last session of the Legislature. Bills are pending in both houses requiring the return of all new State bonds yet unsold to the Treasury. There are general rumors that bonds appropriated for railroad purposes have been misapplied and fraudulently used. The persons implicated are shunning investigation.

Attempt to Destroy Spanish Gunboats.

NEW YORK Dec 16 —It is stated that an attempt was made to destroy the Spanish gunboats to-night by a party of Cuban sympathizers but timely information enabled the Spanish authorities to detect the scheme.

The N. Y. "Times" on Gen. Butler

The Times says, aside from the caustic which he applied, General Butler's letter is a case of special pleading altogether out of place. It renews the proscription of Southern men, it destroys the dignity of the United States, the confidence it already feels in our own people and the confidence it seeks to inspire in foreign powers regarding its future. All these alike demand a proud and generous policy—general amnesty. If there chance be here and there men whom it is well to except let them be individually reserved by name from the operation of a wide sweeping magnanimous act. We have conquered once by arms, let us conquer again by magnanimity.

Protest against Chinese Importations

A meeting of workingmen of this city was held last evening for the purpose of considering the question of cheap labor. Resolutions were adopted strongly protesting against importation of Chinese into the country by any commission immigrant society as an injury to the working class and calling on Congress to take measures to prevent the evil.

Criminal Record.

Jacob Dickerson was convicted of the murder of Peter Stakes of Hackensack, N J yesterday.

D H. Roma, formerly a Methodist minister, and J Harrigan both policemen were yesterday dismissed for robbery.

LOUISVILLE, Dec 16 —Hiram C Powers is sentenced to execution, Feb 4th for the murder of Richard Shaw.

CHICAGO, Dec 17 —A New York special says the defalcation of George F. Dunnigan, of the Sub-Treasury was discovered yesterday. It will probably exceed $20,000. Great uncertainty is felt in business circles, owing to numerous failures reported, and there is danger of trouble among financiers to-day. In consequence Money on loan is being called in.

The New Apportionment Bill

Washington specials say Allison's apportionment bill will pass. The House will have three hundred members; the Secretary shall make the apportionment on that basis for the next Congress, as soon as the Commissioner's returns are received. The States having an excess over present numbers are to elect them on a general ticket (As many members as they think will make 275 enough for the House.)

Resignation of Judge Grier.

Judge Grier's resignation was finally sent to the President last evening. Stanton is warmly supported for the vacancy by some and bitterly opposed by others. The name of Judge Strong, of Pennsylvania, also, is mentioned.

Illinois Constitutional Convention

CHICAGO Dec 17 —The Illinois Constitutional Convention completed its organization yesterday, electing Hitchcock (Rep) of Chicago, elected on the Citizen's Ticket, for President. Harmon (Democrat) of Cairo, was elected Secretary. The other officers were elected mostly by straight Democratic vote, assisted by most of the Republicans elected on independent tickets. The straight Republicans voted for Republicans only throughout.

Death of the Secretary of State of Ohio.

COLUMBUS, Dec 17 —John Russell Secretary of State of Ohio and State Senator elect for his district, died at his residence yesterday evening. This leaves the Senate politically a tie.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE

PARIS Dec 16 —Advices from Rome state the Council is yet unable to form a commission to regulate the relations between the Church and State and define the rights of each. Several votes have been taken but they were indecisive.

On the night of December 15th placards were posted in the streets calling the people to arms in the name of the Republic and making other revolutionary appeals. The next day a number of suspected parties were arrested, among them Gen Axefure.

The influence of the Duke of Saldaba is increasing. It is expected the Ministry will be forced to resign.

In the Corps Legislatif to-day Deputy Estancelin expressed homage for the Orleans Princes and regretted their continued banishment. Forcade de la Roquette, Minister of the Interior protested against these remarks. Estancelin denounced the policy of the Government with much warmth. In the course of his speech he declared all Governmental candidates whose election to the Corps are contested had been better admitted at once. The deputy was immediately called to order.

ROME Dec 16 —No uneasiness exists in regard to the health of the Pope. The recent decree providing for the election of his successor should the Pope die during the session of the Council was but a formality. An address to all members of the Council says that the statement that any modifications are to be made in the regulations of the Council is incorrect. It is officially settled that no discussion on this point will be permitted.

MADRID Dec 16. In the Cortes to-day a resolution to investigate the robbery of the crown jewels was adopted by a vote of [illegible] 5. Minister Fuergula protests in his charges against the ex Queen Christina and Isabella in connection with the abstraction of these jewels.

LONDON Dec 6. The Alt[illegible] question engrossing public attention. A long communication appears in the Times wherein the writer asserts that European States refused to consider Jeff Davis and Robert E Lee as pirates for the same reason that France long before refused to regard Benjamin Franklin. An analogy in the cases of St James and Admiral Semmes it thinks is complete. Thence it goes on to draw obvious inferences. The Daily News says England settled the policy. It is a marriage of affection if possible and that failing one of convenience. No Cabinet or Conference will ever again propose one of force.

The rumor that the Suez Canal is to be closed in order that new excavations may be made is authoritatively denied.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

Congressional

C[illegible] Dec 18 —The Senate last night in the evening session resumed consideration of the Georgia bill. Davis made a lengthy speech against the bill. Casserly said four years of government by the bayonet in the South had demonstrated the futility of the reconstruction policy of Congress. The Senate finally voted on Wilson's amendment requiring the Legislature to ratify the 15th Amendment, adopted [illegible] to 15.

In the Senate pending a discussion on the morning hour expired when the Georgia bill was taken up. Mr Salisbury delivered an argument to illustrate the inconsistency of Congress relative to the reconstructed States which he claimed was prompted by partisan motives in violation of the Constitution.

A [illegible] was introduced to abolish the franking privilege. It provides stamps for the payment of postage on official correspondence and other public matters. Also a bill [illegible] for the settlement of the expenses incurred by the authorities of Montana in suppressing Indian hostilities in 1867.

Mr Wilson introduced a bill to provide for the reduction of officers of the army. It authorizes the Secretary of War to honorably discharge infantry officers who apply, provided the number left in the service shall not be reduced below the requirements of twenty five regiments. Officers thus discharged shall receive one or two years extra pay and allowances according to their terms of service.

Washington News

WASHINGTON, Dec 17 —The President has nominated S L Withy of Michigan Judge of the Sixth Judicial Circuit vice Yeoman withdrawn.

Commissioner Delano has information that the Fifth Cavalry has been very successful in destroying illicit stills in Virginia, also information of serious trouble with illicit distilleries of the Sixth District of South Carolina, which will probably require the presence of the military.

The Senate held a short executive session after which it resumed the consideration of the Georgia bill. Stockton said if the 15th amendment was declared adopted through the means contemplated, the day would come when it would be declared no part of the Constitution. Ferry said the vote of Georgia had already been counted in favor of the 15th amendment and it would be unwise to insist upon a ratification again. Morton modified his amendment, leaving out the condition of ratifying the 14th amendment. Edmunds asked why the Senator from Indiana did not move to insert a clause directing the military commander in Georgia to declare the 15th amendment adopted, without the formality of a vote. Sherman and Thurman had a dispute as to whether the people of Ohio endorsed the 14th and 15th amendments in the late elections. A lengthy discussion followed as to whether it was in the power of Congress to dictate to any State whatever whereby said action might be held invalid and a constitutional amendment thus ratified held nugatory.

[illegible] of Affairs in Florida.

WASHINGTON, Dec 18 —A delegate from Florida called on the President this morning for the purpose of getting troops sent to Florida to aid the authorities in executing the laws and protecting the lives and property of citizens. The party complain that a large number of assassinations have occurred lately. The President stated that he would confer with the Secretary of War on the subject of the means to be taken to effectually carry out the laws.

The Spanish Gunboats.

CHICAGO, Dec 18 —A special from New York says that about a dozen engineers engaged for Spanish gunboats refused to go aboard which is likely to be the cause of their further detention. It is rumored that one of the Peruvian monitors which sailed from New Orleans sometime since is laying outside ready to attack the gunboats but it is not generally believed.

An agent has just closed a contract for 10 000 breech-loading rifles for the Sultan of Turkey, to be delivered in six months.

NEW YORK, Dec 17 —The Times says of the matter of the conspiracy said to be afloat against the Spanish flotilla we learn from persons connected with the movement, that a plan to intercept the gunboats and destroy them has been matured and is now in course of development. It appears that Geo. Abbott, who left this city last Thursday with fifty men for the South sent thirty of them to a point on the coast near the mouth of the Potomac, where a vessel is ready to receive them, in which they will put to sea and arrive in the track of the flotilla.

Wreck of a Steamer

Mining Disaster

HAZLETON, Dec 18 —A terrible mining accident occurred this morning near this place. A coal mine caved in filling the shaft and tunnel with enormous masses of earth, carrying two large houses down with it and choking the entrance to the mine. Several persons in the dwelling houses at the time were carried down with the falling masses, and instantly killed. It is impossible to reach the bodies. Some men were said to have been in the mine, and it is supposed they were killed instantly. Ten persons in all have lost their lives. Efforts are being made to extricate the bodies. The houses fell forty feet and broke into fragments.

Canada News

OTTAWA Dec 17 —It is reported that it is not the intention of the Government to complete the purchase of the Northwest Territory until spring and not until the Dominion is able to assert its authority by the presence of an armed force. It is said payment to the Hudson Bay Company will not be made for some time. The insurrection is left to be dealt with by that Company.

Gen. Thomas Exhibits a Little Spirit

NASHVILLE, Dec 16 —Some weeks ago a member of the Tennessee Legislature offered a proposition to sell the portrait of General Thomas hanging in the State Library painted at the expense of the State which was defeated by a large majority. General Thomas, however has written a letter to a gentleman in this city to ascertain the cost of painting the portrait adding that he would refund the money and that he also intended to return to the present Legislature the gold medal voted him by the last Legislature in commendation of his victory over the rebels in front of Nashville [illegible] 1864.

MAUCH CHUNK Pa Dec [illegible]. The mine near Hazleton which caved to-day engulphing a block of houses has not been worked for fifteen years. The ten persons who were in the houses which fell are still in the mine and must certainly be dead. A steam fire engine has been throwing a stream into the mine all to-day light. The earth still continues falling enlarging the cavity continually. The excitement is very great and increasing. The families in the vicinity are moving out of their houses fearing they will fall next. The general [illegible] is that other houses will fall in also and there is danger that the mine will take fire.

Three men in the mine were supposed to have perished but they succeeded in getting out. A man who went into the shaft to search for them was overcome with foul air and perished.

TERRE HAUTE Ind Dec 17. [illegible] the evening was more numerously attended than ever and the feeling against [illegible] is beginning to be very excited and intense.

ST JOHNS N B, Dec. 18.—On the trial of Munro for murder, last evening, the jury brought in a verdict of guilty, accompanied by a recommendation of mercy. The Judge deferred sentence.

LONDON, Dec. 17.—Auberon Herbert, M P., has resigned his Oxford fellowship. In a note announcing the step he complains that the management of the University is unwise and unjust, because it persists in adhering to a policy of exclusiveness.

The Times, in a letter on the Alabama claims, says if Minister Motley proposes that negotiations for the settlement of the claims be re-opened at Washington the proposal will be accepted. We must add that it would be useless to negotiate or talk of negotiating unless each side is prepared to enter upon negotiations with confidence in the other. The charge has been made by Americans that we did not show a proper feeling toward them during the war, that our want of proper feeling led us to afford unfair assistance to their enemies. We reply that it was our duty to abstain from showing any feeling toward either, that the charge of unfair assistance was a [illegible] observance of neutrality.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

MONDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 20, 1869.

The Lone Repudiator.

The Jones family has distinguished itself. Jones, the bright particular star of the family, is a member of Congress from Kentucky. Jones is a Democrat, glories in Pendleton and is evidently under the impression that, even though a Democrat, he ought to be honest enough to vote for repudiation, after having got his election through tickling his constituents with the promise to dispose of the National debt without costing them "ary red cent." When Mungen and Brooks and the rest of the Democratic members were talking repudiation to the poor man, Jones and the poor man thought they meant what they said, and Jones went up to Congress big with the purpose of putting his square shoulders side by side with the square shoulders of Brooks, Mungen & Co., against the ponderous weight of public debt and just rolling it right into the repudiation grave, digged for it by the vigorous young Democracy of the West. Jones, however, has found how very little reliance can be placed in human promises, and how especially little in Democratic professions. Mungen talked big enough to suit even Jones; but when Brooks at the beck of the "Pivotal bondholder," forgetting his dear friend the poor man, turned tail upon the repudiation job, even Mungen turned tail also, and left Jones a lone, lorn martyr to support the great central Democratic idea, wholly alone. Jones has found that Democratic talk of repudiation is designed just for the present, to tickle the poor man who can't afford to pay taxes, and the dishonest man who don't want to pay; that Democratic votes in Congress are for the bloated bondholder. It may be a question if Jones's faith in the Democratic branch of the human family is not shaken—it may be shattered. Poor Jones! The only man in America to stand up before the whole nation and defend the cardinal Democratic idea [illegible] Democracy! To have but one fast, faithful defender! Even Oregon Smith [illegible] the very pink of the Pendletonian repudiators, failed to stand by Kentucky Jones. Again, poor Jones!

But seriously, the vote taken in the House of Representatives the other day, shows how unmistakably the sentiment of the American people is in favor of an honest payment of the public debt. [illegible] puerile and ineffective have been the efforts of the Democracy to [illegible] the people. It shows, further, how utterly [illegible] it is and will be for the Democracy to restore itself as a governing force in the country. Here has Democracy been rallying for four years, to the cry of repudiation, and when the time [illegible] the square [illegible] they cry from the platforms they themselves had built, each one of them but Jones [illegible] should not be [illegible] under the falling timbers. In this act they have recognized and acknowledged how [illegible] is the prospect of success upon Democratic [illegible]. The Republican idea of honestly paying the national debt, of [illegible] justice [illegible], is confessed to be the one by which the people stand fast. That [illegible] fear of the people's anger does not render it any the [illegible] as a lesson against corruption and imbecility. After years of toiling and [illegible] to bring repudiation into such shape that its very form and name should not be frightful, in one hour it is extinguished like a [illegible] candle, and Democracy left floundering in its own mire, without so much as a [illegible] to catch at.

Members of the State Central Committee.

A meeting of the Republican State Central Committee having been called by the Chairman, it may be well to give the names of the members appointed at the last State Convention, in order that where vacancies have occurred, our friends may have time to select suitable persons to fill them:

Baker county, C. M. Foster; Benton, T. B. Odeneal; [illegible]; Columbia, [illegible] Caples; Clatsop, A. Montgomery; Clackamas, B. Killen; Douglas, D. C. Underwood [illegible]; Jackson, J. J. [illegible]; [illegible] S. White; Lane, W. W. Bristow; Linn, [illegible] Russell; Marion, M. P. Berry; [illegible]; Multnomah, J. H. Mitchell; Polk, J. L. Collins; Tillamook, T. B. Handley; Umatilla, J. H. Fisk; Union, D. W. [illegible]; Washington, W. D. Hare; Wasco, Lemuel Lyons; Yamhill, Dr. J. W. Watts. In some of the counties, vacancies have occurred we know of, by removal, and it may be that there are other cases of which we have not been apprised. The Republicans should promptly fill up all vacancies and urge their committee men to attend the meeting on the 19th of January, at Portland.

The little wicked Figaro of San Francisco gives [illegible] report, that the Bulletin Company [illegible] controlling interest in the Mor[illegible] [illegible] that hereafter it is to be called the [illegible] Bulletin.

In [illegible] the Republican party [illegible] the burial of the dead past (in politics) [illegible] the popular designation of "Let-uppers." They are conservatives, and propose to "let up" on those who were rebels or sympathizers.

The Examiner complains that a Democratic club swindled it out of a bill of $76 75, for subscriptions. [illegible] the Democratic members of the club had read the Examiner's ravings about "repudiation" to some practical purpose. The Examiner should not complain when its readers practice what it preaches.

The dispatches inform us that a bill has been introduced in Congress to abolish the franking privilege. This is a measure that should be consummated. There is no public abuse of which the public has more just reason to complain than of the unreasonable exercise of the franking privilege. There is a cheaper and better way to transmit the tons upon tons of Pub. Docs.—sometimes vulgarly called "grindstones"—than in U. S. mail bags.

The resignation of R. C. Grier, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, is announced in the dispatches published this morning. Judge Grier is nearly seventy-six years old, having been born March 5th, 1794. He graduated at Dickinson College in 1812; began the practice of law in 1817 in the Northumberland district of New York. In 1846 he was appointed by President Polk an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. Since 1848 he has been a resident of Philadelphia.

In relation to the nomination of Judge Lorenzo Sawyer, of California, to the bench of the Circuit Court of the Pacific coast, the Sacramento Union says: "The nomination is as good a one as could have been made. Sawyer's record as one of the Supreme Judges of this State is altogether satisfactory. By habits of mind and of life, by reason of learning and honesty, he is eminently fitted for the bench in a Court of such high responsibility as that of this Circuit, and his appointment will meet the universal approval of the Republican party here."

The San Francisco Bulletin of a recent date, in an article intended to present the advantages offered by California to immigrants who want lands, says: "We have still many millions of unoccupied arable, pasture and timber land, and we cannot be very poor when our assessed property values—known to be far below the actual value aggregate more than $250,000,000 gold. It is probable the real wealth of the State is not below $500,000,000, which would allow an average of one thousand dollars gold for every man, woman and child, white, black, red or yellow in the State."

GONE EAST.—Mr. H. W. Scott, editor of this paper, left Saturday evening by the steamer Ajax for San Francisco, and thence by Pacific Railroad for the Eastern States. He will be absent six or eight weeks, during which time he intends visiting Washington City, and his old home.

OREGON.

The Christian Church is holding a revival meeting at Brownsville.

Mr. Froman has completed a large warehouse for the storing of grain, at Albany.

It is reported that work in the Brownsville Woolen Mills, will be resumed in March next.

The first term of the Corvallis College closed last Wednesday. The second will commence to-day, Monday.

The Treasurer of Linn county paid into the State Treasury, last week, thirteen thousand dollars, State taxes.

A rumor that an attempt will be made in the next Legislature, to divide Linn county has created no little excitement in that county.

Daniel Clark, President of the State Agricultural Society, has called a meeting of the Board of Managers at Salem, on Tuesday, January 18th.

It is reported that Mr. N. Haun, formerly President of the Willamette Steam Navigation Co. of this city, died a few days since at Umpqua.

Mr. A. D. Miller, of Salem, Oregon, who went east last September, represented this State in the Northern Pacific Railroad Convention held not long since at Saginaw.

The Cumberland Presbyterians have been holding a protracted meeting for over two weeks, in Benton county. Results—several conversions and accessions to the Church.

The Enterprise says: "Mr. Painter, residing on the Peter Weiss place, at the mouth of the Tualatin, was found dead in his bed on the morning of the 7th inst. Cause, heart disease."

The [illegible] says: Mrs. L. [illegible] is going to try the experiment of planting beechnuts, black walnuts and sugar maple seeds, with a view of testing the adaptability of the climate to their growth.

The Albany Register says: We are informed that a large number of the farmers of Linn will go into the cultivation of flax next season, in lieu of wheat, as they can realize more largely from flax than from wheat at present prices.

There will be a meeting of the Benton County Teachers' Institute at the upper District School House, in Corvallis, on December 30th, at 1:30 P. M., and in the evening Rev. C. M. Blake will lecture at the Presbyterian Church. Subject—"The Teacher and his Studies." All are cordially invited to attend.

The "Newport Transportation Company," is the name of a navigation company at Yaquina Bay. Ben. Simpson, R. A. Bensell and William Mackey are the Directors; Ben. Simpson, President and R. A. Bensell, Secretary. The company intends to build a schooner, to be launched by the 4th of July next.

Discussing the railroad the Albany Democrat says: "If Albany should give $100,000 to secure the road, it would be about ten per cent. of her property, and as a result of the investment, she may reasonably expect that property to double its value immediately. We cannot afford to remain passive. Every dollar withheld from this object, if the object is defeated is a dollar many times multiplied to keep the road away. It amounts to this, since the single million without the road will soon shrink one-half or less.

PUGET SOUND.

[From the Seattle Intelligencer, 13th.]

With pleasure we announce the fact that our citizens have subscribed liberally to sustain telegraph communication along the Sound.

The town of Seattle is growing apace. The Intelligencer mentions a number of large, fine buildings which are in course of construction.

We learn from a gentleman that one of the leading business men of Portland has left for San Francisco, to procure machinery for the new steamer Tacoma.

We learn from Capt. Cosgrove, of the steamer Mary Woodruff, that the settlers having caught an Indian, whom they suspected, hung him up for a few minutes, and on letting him down, he informed them that the deed was committed by the same tribe that killed Carter a few years ago on the Snohomish—the Skadgit river Indians. The Indian Agent, accompanied by a number of settlers, has gone up the river in pursuit of the murderers.

On Monday last the new steamer Olympia, Capt. Finch, arrived at Atkins' and Shoudy's wharf, it being her first visit to this port. Considerable gratification was evinced by the crowd of persons present at her first appearance, and as she touched the wharf hundreds rushed on board to inspect her internal arrangements, which were found to be extremely neat, and, in many respects, beautiful. She appears to be the best adapted to the route of any steamer which has yet visited us, and resembles in appearance those which ply on Lakes Erie and Michigan.

RELIGIOUS SONGS IN NEW ORLEANS CONCERT SALOONS.—A young and pretty lady, arrayed in black, visited the various concert saloons in this city recently, for the purpose of reforming the habitues of those establishments. The young lady informed our reporter that her purpose was to "win souls to Christ," and that she intended to visit, in their order, all the where she thought that the most good could be accomplished, commencing with the best and ending with the worst.

Her first visit was paid to the St. Nicholas saloon, on St. Charles street. She stated her object to the proprietor, and asked him for the use of his piano. The piano was immediately placed at her disposal, and music unknown to the saloon before was re-echoed from its walls. The proprietor kept perfect order during the singing of three or four hymns, and we have every hope that some, at least, among the audience were converted. The lady left, after assuring the proprietor that she would return again to-night.

After leaving the St. Nicholas the lady missionary visited Louis Bauer's saloon, known as "The Pavilion," on Perdido and Baronne streets. Mr. Bauer refused to allow her the use of his piano, and she stood at a table and sang several hymns, although repeatedly interrupted by cat calls, etc. After leaving Bauer's she visited other concert saloons in town, but met with a cold reception.

The young lady is evidently in earnest and honest, and although she risks herself in strange places she does it for what she believes a holy purpose, and every where she goes she always find men who have enough of the gentleman about them to protect her from personal insult.

We would remark, however, that if the young lady intends to follow up the course she has marked out for herself, she should be accompanied by somebody older than herself.—New Orleans Republican.

THE WEST.

Weddings are frequent at White Pine. A single lady from the East was married an hour after her arrival.

The small pox is again prevalent at Virginia City, Nevada. At last accounts there were six or seven new cases.

Twelve tons of bullion (silver) and five tons of copper ore were recently shipped in one day from Carlin, Nevada, to San Francisco.

George Francis Train has sued the Kansas Pacific and Union Pacific Railroads for $300,000. These are undoubtedly the biggest gas bills on record.

Lumber and piles for San Diego, California, and other towns on the lower coast, are being shipped in considerable quantities from Puget Sound.

During November twenty-three full cargoes of wheat cleared from San Francisco for England. The total exports for the month were 567,748 centals, valued at $892,798.

In the District Court, December 8th, at Elko (Nev.) Judge Kenny sentenced Chamberlain, recently convicted of murder in the second degree, to the State Prison for a term of ninety-nine years.

According to Chief Engineer Whitney's report, the losses by fire at San Francisco during the year aggregate $384,906 88; number of alarms, 266. The cost of maintaining the Department during the same period was $12,844 77.

The Victoria Colonist of the 4th contains accounts of the discovery of very rich gold diggings on Peace river, and on several small streams twenty miles north of Findlay Branch. The diggings are so rich that two ounce claims are not considered worth working.

Articles of incorporation (or re-incorporation) of the Mechanics' Institute, of San Francisco, were filed in the office of the Secretary of State, December 8th. This Association, as is generally known, has for its object the advancement, protection and improvement of the mechanic arts and sciences.

A person in the employ of the Chinese companies, the railroad, or somebody else, has a car on the switch and moves up and down the track of the Pacific Railroad, gathering up the remains of the dead Chinamen, preparatory to sending them home to the Celestial kingdom. From the number of graves along the line, it would appear that in building the Pacific Railroad the wear and tear of Chinamen were considerable.

"A SLIGHT COLD," COUGHS.—Few are aware of the importance of checking a Cough or "Slight Cold" in its first stage; that which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected, often attacks the lungs. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" give sure and almost immediate relief. "THE TROCHES," have proved their efficacy by a test of many years, and have received testimonials from eminent men who have used them.

Help the Boys

The following editorial article from the San Francisco Bulletin evinces so much genuine feeling and hearty sympathy with boyhood that we cannot refrain from commending it

Hardly a day passes that we are not interrogated by some bright lad "do you want a boy" They go away with a shade of disappointment on their honest faces and we are sorry for them But cannot some practical way be devised to help willing boys who want to help themselves We hesitate to encourage any greater multiplication of benevolent societies but an association formed to help boys to places might do great good It is better to help them before they have fallen into evil ways than afterwards What is to become of all these California boys? A majority of them have no chance to day to earn an honest livelihood By the arbitrary ruling of various trade and labor unions they are practically shut out from all chance to learn any of the skilled handicrafts Not one in one hundred of the boys stands any chance of being taken anywhere as an apprentice Even when business was brisk and all the mechanical trades were active the boys were shut out

We recollect very well the savage demonstrations against Booth & Co because it was supposed that one or two more boys had been employed than some one of the trade unions allowed And we have not forgotten the humane and triumphant position then taken If the rule of these trade unions had prevailed twenty years ago, the very men who have voted for the exclusion of boys would be themselves to day without trades We must get back to the old way of dealing with boys Every tradesman must have the privilege of taking just as many apprentices as he may want, or is willing to accommodate Men crowd in from abroad and fill places, while the boys born and reared here have no chance "Do you want a boy?" "No, our rules do not allow us to take only one boy for so many men We have no place for you"

Then repeal this inhuman rule and give the boys a chance Or else prepare to build houses of correction and jails more capacious than were ever seen in any land

The streets of San Francisco are full of boys They have nothing to do, and many of them have nothing to eat Is it a wonder that some of these boys bring up at the Industrial School and some at San Quentin? We are driving our boys to the wall, and are making outlaws of them at an alarming rate We should like to see every boy in this State who wants a trade, have an opportunity to learn it We don't advocate all the rights of the old apprenticeship system But boys once entered as apprentices should never leave their employers until the full time has been served, unless the master is cruel or incompetent. There is a great lack of thoroughness in the training of young men for the various handicrafts Boys must come in to serve so long and so well as to make it an object for employers to receive them

Just now there would be some encouragement if we could say to these boys, "There is a society which will enlist all its interests in your behalf Take any work which they can find for you to do." Strong men, especially mechanics, can manage to get into the country Boys set adrift without trades, without work, jostled and turned out of every place where they apply, with arbitrary laws ruling them out of trades what can we expect when society makes war upon boys?

We have come to this, that we cannot honestly tell a poor and willing boy that there is a fair chance for him in this city, and hardly such in the State. We have Immigrant Aid Societies, and so far as these do any good they are well enough But we might as well begin to back up our own boys and see at least that justice is done them

We want thirty thousand honest, industrious immigrants, it is said, and it is even intimated that the aid of the State will be invoked in their behalf. We want, first of all, a fair chance for more than thirty thousand boys in California, who are practically ruled out of places for no other fault than that they are boys, and cannot make themselves heard and felt in any controlling way The farms absorb the labor of some, and mercantile operations a few more. A few are admitted as apprentices under the rules of trade unions; and the rest are represented by the few who go hopelessly in and out of shops and offices inquiring, "Do you want a boy?"

The truth is, we do want boys, with all the drawbacks of boisterousness and juvenile mischief These youngsters are to rule this country shortly, and we might as well begin to make places for them not in houses of correction, but in callings where work is both discipline and correction We trust the war upon boyhood has closed in this State; and that hereafter there will be a recognition of the fact that the boys are not to be snubbed or put down Boys, hold up your heads, there is a good time coming

Judge McKinstry on Betting —Some time since the betting case of Brennan vs Smith was referred to Harney, the Clerk of the Court, to report a judgment. On Monday he reported in favor of the defendant. The plaintiff's counsel thereupon moved to set aside this judgment, and urged that by a decision of the Supreme Court of this State either party to a wager may recant before the result is known. Judge McKinstry in passing on the case, remarked that under the rulings of some State Courts, as in this State, money may be withdrawn which has been deposited on a bet at any time before the result is determined. In others the Courts go so far as to say the act is illegal, immoral, and the contract void, and that no action can lie against the stakeholder; that the Court will not take any notice of the transaction. He thought this the wisest rule of all, but he would have to bow to that laid down by the Supreme Court of California, a rule which imposes on our Courts of justice the duty of deciding bets, and these may as well be bets in a faro game as wagers on election results. In the present case the bet was on a result, the election of Grant and Seymour; that result was known before the bet was paid over, and cannot be recovered back. The Court, therefore, still protesting against the rule which imposes such a duty on it, affirmed the report of the referee, and gave judgment for the defendant.—S F. Bulletin, Dec. 8th

How to Look "Languishing"—The Philadelphia Day has it from good authority that many ladies are addicted to the use of belladonna, or deadly nightshade, in a preparation to which druggists and perfumers have given a euphonius but deceptive name This poison is said to have the effect of imparting to the upper part of the face, especially to the eyes, a languishing, half-sentimental, or half sensual expression, which is considered perfectly "killing," on the promenade or at the evening party. The cost of producing this effect for a few hours is three dollars, and a perfect misery is endured for about an hour, while the potion is making its deleterious impression on the system Sometimes the extract is dropped into water and the eyes bathed with the liquid for a similar purpose, and, while this mode of application is the least hurtful, yet the eyes must in time be greatly weakened

A Judicial Joke —In the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia objection was made that the interlineation in an indictment was written in blue ink, the instrument having been written in black ink Judge Carter said "Now, in this period of the abolition of all distinction on account of color, it appears to me that this criticism is hypercritical!"

Open in the Evening —Jackson, Sanderson & Co will keep their store open until 9 o'clock in the evening until after the Holidays

Dyspepsia in the Pacific States.

Nowhere in the United States has dyspepsia heretofore been more general, or marked with more distressing symptoms, than in California Luxury high living and dissipation in the cities, hardship, privation irregular habits and the effects of malaria in the mining regions have combined to render Chronic Indigestion one of the most terrible scourges of the Pacific States It is a source of satisfaction therefore to be able to report the gradual and steady decline of the disease and its distressing concomitants on this side of the Continent As this happy change began to be perceptible soon after HOSTETTER S STOMACH BITTERS had attained the rank of a Standard Remedy in this region and as it has become more and more apparent in proportion to the increasing sales of the Great Vegetable Specific reason suggests that the bane has been ameliorated and checked by the operations of the genial elixir advertised as its antidote Unprejudiced physicians admit this to be the fact, and abandoning all the ordinary stimulants, as well as the astringent tinctures and mineral excitants of the pharmacopœia, are now prescribing the BITTERS as a cure for every form of indigestion The preparation possesses three great advantages over every other so-called stomachic It is not merely a tonic, but combines the properties of an anti-bilious medicine, a gentle laxative, and a blood-depurent, with those of a wholesome stimulant It neither depletes nor excites; but strengthens, soothes, purifies and restores No medicine ever introduced into the Pacific region has so entirely gained the confidence of every class of society, or approached in the extent of its sales HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS

From the New York [illegible]

The [illegible] mysterious [illegible] which has for [illegible] hung [illegible] Herbert [illegible] Ainsley has considerably agitated our uptown fashionables and [illegible] his sudden [illegible] the [illegible] many [illegible] have been [illegible] regarding his [illegible] pedigree, title and means. These inquiries it is evident should have been made when his Lordship first appeared in their [illegible] society and before he was received so eagerly and entertained so sumptuously as he was by many of our best families. His advent and [illegible] has, however, taught them a lesson from which they ought to profit and have [illegible] proved the shallowness of what is called [illegible] society."

We first made the acquaintance of Lord Ainsley in July last at Newport, where he was at that time quite prominent, but strange to say, was registered on the hotel books as simply "Mr. H. Leroy, London, England." He dressed exceedingly nobby, drove a splendid turnout, paid his hotel bills honestly, danced, flirted and enjoyed himself generally among the fairer sex, and was regarded by matchmaking mammas to be the most eligible man it had ever been their good fortune to meet.

While at Newport he chanced to fall in with the beautiful Miss Martin of Staten Island, with whom he at once fell desperately in love. Strange to say his love appeared to be returned, but the mother of the young lady looked with distrust upon the modern Romeo and did all in her power to break up the sudden attachment and prevent the meetings of the lovers. The efforts of Mrs Martin were unfortunately not successful, and when Mr Le Roy left Newport he was congratulated upon securing such a charming fiancee as Miss Martin. Subsequent to this, at one of the hops at Union Hall, Saratoga, we were shown "Lord Ainsley," whom we at once recognized as Mr. H. Le Roy. For two days he made himself conspicuous at the different hotels, spent a great deal of money and invariably paid his bills, which, considering the facts now known, is remarkable.

From the Springs he came to New York, and at once commenced to entertain such an unusual style of elegance and liberality as to excite the attention of fashionable society and make himself quite famous. In a little while the sensation he evidently desired to make was created, and he was for a month the great social lion in the city. He was deluged with invitations to dine, and his society was courted on all occasions. Possessing a fine education, and being evidently familiar with good society, Lord Ainsley soon made a good and strong impression upon his friends, who followed him from pillar to post. No one stopped to ask who he was, what was his position and standing. Oh, no! he had money and was a lord, and that was enough for New York toadies. Soon the news of his engagement was whispered in social circles, and his friend Captain Oliver, of Twenty-third street, thought it was necessary that a dejeuner should be given to the happy man in order to announce the fact to the public. The affair duly came off, and a full account of it was published in the Sun.

Soon after this entertainment, Lord Ainsley suddenly left for Canada, and it was given out that he had gone to visit his "old friend Prince Arthur." We have since ascertained that the Prince entirely repudiates the Lord, and professes ignorance of having ever seen him, but thinks he has heard of Ainsley in London. Undoubtedly he has, for the latter in 1867 was conspicuous on all public [illegible], and frequently figured in some disreputable affairs. Upon the return of Lord Ainsley from his "jolly Canadian trip," a second [illegible] was given at Captain Oliver's residence, Lord Ainsley this time officiating as host. The extent [illegible] and elegance of the entertainment [illegible] a new topic of conversation in society, and the high sounding name of the liberal host was on everybody's tongue.

Meanwhile the mother of the fiancee had hastily dispatched to London an intimate friend to [illegible] all he could of Ainsley, his family, reputation, and to seek for a confirmation of the elaborate [illegible] he had told in the house at the West End, [illegible] and four servants and position. The friend [illegible] in London, and at once started upon his errand. The result can be told in a few words.

It was [illegible] on the best and most trustworthy authority, that the lord was no lord at all, that he was a gambler, a frequenter of low places, and, in a word, an adventurer. He is not known at all in London fashionable circles, and if ever he was is now [illegible]. His mother, who died a few [illegible] was a second rate actress in Berlin theater, and his father at present is engaged in the [illegible] business in the lowest part of the city of London. Ainsley's right name is Radford; [illegible] a valet to a wealthy French gentleman in Paris, acquired his education—an education which had so assisted him in palming himself upon the too credulous American people.

Upon gaining this intelligence, which she had [illegible] Mrs. Martin at once forbade Ainsley ever entering her house again, and annulled the engagement between him and her daughter. The scene is [illegible] as having been very stormy, during which the discarded Romeo exhibited the [illegible]. Ainsley contrived, however, to meet the young lady at various times and places, who had not ceased to love him notwithstanding the astounding disclosures that had come to light, stamping him as an impostor, and the wedding day was decided upon. It was agreed that the marriage should be clandestine. Cards were issued and all the preparations made, and upon Miss Martin expressing her determination to wed her dear Herbert in spite of everything and everybody, the foolish girl was discarded by her mother and relations, with the exception of an aunt, at whose house up town the marriage was solemnized. The wedding occurred, and was followed by an English wedding breakfast, of which all the [illegible] company partook. Several respectable New Yorkers were present at the ceremony, who at that time did not know the character of their host, Dick Radford.

Little remains to be said, and we refrain from all [illegible] comments. It was an unfortunate affair, and has brought sorrow and disgrace upon an estimable and highly respectable family. Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Radford are now in Philadelphia, and will probably never return to New York society.

Ainos.—A correspondent of the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, in giving a description of a [illegible] of people some ten or twelve thousand in number, who inhabit the islands north of Japan, and are named Ainos, says:

They are of an entirely different race from the Mongolians among whom they live, having "eyes [illegible] instead of oblique, and being covered with long black hair over the greater part of their bodies. They are not a large race, nor yet very tall; the tallest of those [illegible] Bickmore measured five feet nine inches, which was about the height of Lord Byron. They are not so handsome as the [illegible] and apparently less religious, having no idea of a future state, as Mr. Bickmore thinks. He says that they "have never dreamed of [illegible] and will laugh in your face if you talk to them about it. They exhibit some of the other traits of high civilization, such as drinking whisky, (which they make of rice,) keeping mistresses, and allow most of their children to die in infancy. Indeed, their numbers are fast decreasing from this cause, and from the prevalence of smallpox and varioloid, against which they seem to be as incapable of protecting their people as the city authorities of Springfield are. They have no horse-races, and do not deal much in ready made clothing, unless the hair on their bodies may be so called. A child's wardrobe consists of this alone, but as they grow older they twist and spin garments out of the inner bark of a tree.

The keel of one the the typical first-class British war ships of the future has just been laid at Portsmouth. She bears the suggestive title of the Devastation, and along with her consort the Thunderer to be shortly commenced will take precedence of all the existing grades in the British navy. Her length is 285 feet, her extreme breadth 62 1-4 feet, mean draft 26 feet and tons burden 4,406, old measurement. She is to be worked by two engines of 800 horse power, and her estimated speed is set down at 12 1-2 knots per hour. She will be able to carry 1 600 tons of coal, sufficient for a three weeks cruise. She is to be constructed on the genuine turret principle, without any attempt to unite by the [illegible] of mast and sails, the characteristics of two distinct varieties of fighting ships. Being, then, neither adapted for a cruiser or a guardship, she is simply a floating battery of enormous power. She will carry two turrets and on each will be mounted two thirty ton guns, capable of throwing shot of 600 pounds weight. Her sides are to be composed of teak and iron of nearly three feet in thickness, constituting an armor plating which is intended to make her the most impenetrable ship of any navy, while her armament is claimed as the heaviest yet attempted. Owing to the absence of any work aloft, a crew of 250 men will, it is said, be sufficient to work her. She is to cost $1 450 000 in gold.

FORM OF PROPOSAL, GUARANTEE, AND CERTIFICATE.

Proposal

The undersigned ——, whose post office address is ——, county of ——, State of ——, proposes to convey the mails of the United States, from July 1, 1870, to June 30, 1874, on route No ——, between —— and ——, under the advertisement of the Postmaster General, dated September 3d, 1869, with "celerity, certainty and security," for the annual sum of —— dollars.

This proposal is made with full knowledge of the distance of the route, the weight of the mail to be carried, and all other particulars in reference to the route and service; and also after careful examination of the laws and instructions attached to the advertisement.

Dated —— (Signed.)

Guarantee

The undersigned, residing at ——, State of ——, undertake that if the foregoing bid for carrying the mail on route No —— be accepted by the Postmaster General, the bidder shall, prior to the 1st day of July 1870, enter into the required obligation or contract to perform the service proposed, with good and sufficient sureties.

This we do, understanding distinctly the obligations and liabilities assumed by guarantors under the 27th section of the act of Congress of July 2, 1836.

Dated —— (Signed by two guarantors.)

Cal., Oregon, and Wash ——

INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS AND POSTMASTERS,

Containing also conditions to be incorporated in the contracts to the extent the Department may deem proper.

1 Seven minutes are allowed to each intermediate office, when not otherwise specified, for assorting the mails, but on railroad and steamboat routes there is to be no more delay than is sufficient for an exchange of the mail pouches.

2 On railroad and steamboat lines, and other routes where the mode of conveyance admits of it, the special agents of the Post Office Department, also post office blanks, mail bags, locks and keys, are to be conveyed without extra charge.

3 On railroad and steamboat lines the route agents of the Department, also the British and Canada mails, when offered, and the agents accompanying them, are conveyed without charge; and for the use of the United States agents a commodious car, or part of a car, properly lighted, warmed, and furnished, and adapted to the convenient separation and due security of the mails, is to be provided by the contractor, under the direction of the Department.

Railroad and steamboat companies are required to take the mail from, and deliver it into, the post offices at the beginning and end of their routes, and to and from all offices not more than eighty rods from a station or landing. Proposals may be submitted by the companies for the performance of all other side service—that is for offices over eighty rods from a station or landing.

There will be "way bills" prepared by postmasters, or other agents of the Department, to accompany the mails conveyed on railroads and steamers, specifying the number and destination of the several bags. On other principal routes likewise receipts will be required and way bills forwarded, the latter to be examined by the several postmasters, to insure regularity in the delivery of mails.

4 No pay will be made for trips not performed, and for each of such omissions not satisfactorily explained, three times the pay of the trip will be deducted. For arrivals so far behind time as to break connection with depending mails, and not sufficiently excused, one-fourth of the compensation for the trip is subject to forfeiture. For repeated delinquencies of the kind herein specified enlarged penalties, proportioned to the nature thereof and the importance of the mail, may be made.

5 For leaving behind or throwing off the mails, or any portion of them, for the admission of passengers, or for being concerned in setting up or running an express conveying intelligence in advance of the mail, a quarter's pay may be deducted.

6 Fines will be imposed, unless the delinquency be promptly and satisfactorily explained by certificates of postmasters or the affidavits of other credible persons, for failing to arrive in contract time; for neglecting to take the mail from or deliver it into a post office; for suffering it to be wet, injured, destroyed, robbed or lost; and for refusing, after demand, to convey the mail as frequently as the contractor runs, or is concerned in running, a coach, car, or steamboat on a route.

7 The Postmaster General may annul the contract for repeated failures to run agreeably to contract; for violating the post office laws or disobeying the instructions of the Department; for refusing to discharge a carrier when required by the Department to do so; for running an express as aforesaid; or for transporting persons or packages conveying mailable matter out of the mail.

8 The Postmaster General may order an increase of service on a route by allowing therefor a pro rata increase on the contract pay. He may change schedules of departures and arrivals in all cases and particularly to make them conform to connections with railroads, without increase of pay, provided the running time be not abridged. The Postmaster General may also discontinue or curtail the service in whole or in part in order to place on the route superior service, or whenever the public interests in his judgment, shall require such discontinuance or curtailment for any other cause, he allowing as full indemnity to contractor one month's extra pay on the amount of service dispensed with, and a pro rata compensation for the amount of service retained and continued.

9 Payments will be made by collections from or drafts on postmasters or otherwise after the expiration of each quarter—say in November, February, May and August.

10 The distances are given according to the best information, but no increased pay will be allowed should they be greater than advertised, if the points to be supplied are correctly stated. Bidders must inform themselves on this point, and also in reference to the weight of the mail, the condition of the roads, hills, streams, &c, and all toll bridges, ferries or obstructions of any kind by which expense may be incurred. No claim for additional pay based on such ground can be considered [illegible]
